RE

Guru Nanak was a travelling teacher. He visited Lahore, where there lived a banker called Dunning Chand, who was well known for being greedy. His beautiful home shone with gold, marble and precious jewels. Dunning Chand learnt that Guru Nanak was visiting. He rushed to invite the Guru to a special feast: it would make him look very important to have a famous guest. Guru Nanak accepted the invitation. It was a wonderful occasion. When everyone had finished, Dunning Chand turned to Guru Nanak: 'I am a wealthy man, I can help you. What do you want me to do?' Guru Nanak sat and thought. Fumbling in his pocket, he drew out a tiny sewing needle. "Something you can do for me," he replied, holding up the needle. 'I want you to keep this needle very safe and give it back when we meet in the next world.' Dunning Chand felt very important. The Guru had given him a very special task. He took the needle and showed it to his wife, explaining what the Guru had told him. To his surprise, she burst into laughter. 'How are you going to do that?' she asked. He thought and thought, then ran back to the Guru asking "How can I take this needle with me when I die?" "If you cannot take a tiny needle with you when you die, how are you going to take all your riches?" asked the Guru. For the first time in his life Dunning Chand felt shocked - then ashamed. He realised he had been a tight, greedy so-and-so. He and his wife decided to use their wealth to help the poor from then onwards. Guru Nanak left with a smile on his face.
